An invigorating, challenging and insightful experience and way of considering life coaching. Highly recommended."

Malcolm Fender, Trainer (NLP Master Practitioner)

These two days build on your NLP Diploma, Practitioner or Master Practitioner Course competencies. This module will give you structure, context and extra skills for putting your present skills into practise as a coach.

In addition to the new aspects, you'll also get a fresh slant on core NLP topics such as Reframing, Rapport, Outcome Setting and using Precision Questions, and clarify for yourself what excellent coaching is and how to do it.

This is for you if you coach or want to coach as part of your work e.g. as a manager, leader, consultant, trainer or health professional. It is also highly relevant if you want to start, develop or accelerate your career in coaching. Additionally you'll be able to apply these skills in numerous other ways including for your personal growth and for enhancing the quality of your communication in areas such as personal relationships and business.

"Has stimulated me to see how I could pull together a wide range of existing skills (incl. some NLP!) into a coaching 'package'."

David Comisky

"Excellent course. This has given me my life back on a personal and business level. ... Has helped my self-belief and to look objectively at how I can continually improve my practice to add depth to my business interventions and to be more patient with my daughters."

Tracey Pepper, Management Consultant

"Life changing experience ... Cannot now imagine coaching without NLP techniques ... Many thanks for your excellent facilitating style and humour."

Kris Woodcock, Ex-Teacher

"Good follow-on from Practitioner course. Going away very motivated and far more confident."

Yvonne Rowse, Associate Director

"Immensely practical course ... It has changed the way I will coach staff at work. It will also be most useful in my role as company mediator and counsellor."

Malcolm Round, Local Government Officer

"Very good training, including lots of exercises! The weekend has given me a better understanding of how I might structure and use NLP coaching techniques and better self-awareness."

Melanie King, ELM Development Consultancy (NLP Practitioner)

Certification: Certification as an 'INLPTA NLP Coach (Diploma)' is dependant upon reaching a satisfactory level of behavioural competence.

(INLPTA: the International NLP Trainer's Association.) This course is also endorsed by The Professional Guild of NLP.
