with
Heart, Wisdom & Integrity

4-Day Training

"Mind expanding tools to change ideals, perceptions, habits. The course has changed my life already and the choice of self change is infinite."

Ann Penny, Scheme Manager

What To Expect

This four-day course over two modules provides a thorough foundation in NLP skills and techniques for use in personal growth and development and for enhancing the quality of your communication.

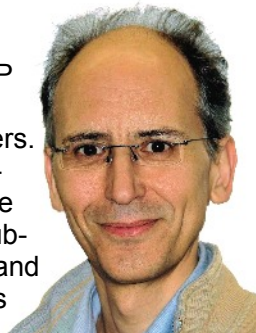

Previous participants are using these skills in areas such as coaching, management, social work, training, counselling, sales, teaching, parenting and consulting, as well as for enhancing their personal lives. It is run according to INLPTA (the International NLP Trainers Association) standards .

"NLP has 'opened my eyes' to the vast opportunities I have within me and around me to grow and enhance my life".

Dawn Hopkinson, Head of Inclusive Learning, Derby Adult Ed.

Trainer

Frank Daniels is a Certified NLP Trainer (INLPTA registered). He trained with both NLP co-founders. In addition to giving public seminars he has taught NLP in-house for various organisations and public services (such as the Police and Social Services) and businesses (such as Rank Xerox). He is also a trained Coach, registered UKCP (NLP) Psychotherapist and Ericksonian Hypnotherapist with a private practice. He has a wealth of experience having been training NLP since 1990, and is known for his integrity, humour and expertise.

Module 1 consists of our NLP Core Skills Seminar - please see separate flier for details.

Module 2 includes:

- Taking on the traits of the most successful people – the NLP Keys to Success
- How to deal with negative self-talk and 'make friends' with your 'Inner Critic'
- How to understand the reactions of others better through fine tuning your senses
- How to give feedback positively and constructively
- Performance coaching skills
- The Mind-Body connection – be able to choose your emotions
- Avoiding words that create limiting mind-sets
- How to turn problems into outcomes that are valuable and tangible
- How to be more flexible in your thinking – move between the big picture and the practical details (a key element of outcome setting and negotiation)
- Make goals more compelling and manage time better - discover how you and others structure time and how to use and change timelines
- How to solve problems and creatively generate new options

NLP Diploma Course

with
Heart, Wisdom & Integrity

"I was very cynical about this on day one but now I really believe that I can use some simple techniques to really change my life experience for the better."

Sue Statter, Management Consultant

"Enjoyed especially: Frank's presentation, sense of humour and his explanation and anecdotes; ... Atmosphere of respect/honour of clients/course participants stories/details/questions."

Tim Jennings, Family Therapist

Why Frank Daniels Associates

You'll benefit from:

- Reliability and experience - we are one of Britain's longest established NLP providers having been training NLP since 1990. We are a member of INLPTA - the International NLP Trainers Association, and a founder member of The Professional Guild of NLP
- Small group size (usually max. 9) for personal attention and coaching
- Respect and integrity - not only in the training, but also in how you learn to use NLP
- Emphasis on practical application and tangible, lasting results
- Superb value-for-money

"I have enjoyed the 'common sense' approach of NLP. I will be able to use ... the techniques both professionally and personally."

Margaret Freeman, Customer Services Manager.

"This was my third piece of NLP training, and it was my best yet. I liked the quiet use of humour [and] the level of support from all the assistants."

Mark Allenby, Social Services

"Very enjoyable. Loads of experiential exercises - Love it." Vauna Urmson, Therapist
